NEW YORK, UPDATED October 26, 2023— Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater, New York City Center's Principal Dance Company and America's cultural ambassador to the world, announces a much-anticipated 65th anniversary season at its New York City Center "home" from November 29 - December 31. The engagement features world premieres by former Ailey company member Elizabeth Roxas-Dobrish and the versatile Amy Hall Garner— the first awardee of a new Ailey Artist in Residence program. New productions include Ronald K. Brown's Dancing Spirit, Alonzo King's Following the Subtle Current Upstream, Jamar Roberts's Ode, and Hans van Manen's Solo. A dozen works by Alvin Ailey will be represented, including highlights programs of Ailey Classics and Ailey & Jazz with live music. Mr. Ailey's must-see masterpiece Revelations will be performed throughout the season, with soul-stirring live music on the opening night and first weekend.

Performances begin with a one-night-only Opening Night Gala honoring Artistic Director Emerita Judith Jamison in her 80th year, featuring a pièce d'occasion for Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater in collaboration with Tony®, Emmy®, and GRAMMY® Award-winning and Oscar-nominated actress, singer, author, producer, and the evening's Honorary Chair Cynthia Erivo. As an 80th birthday present to Ms. Jamison, Elaine P. Wynn & Family Foundation has provided generous support for the new work. Following an uplifting Revelations finale with an unforgettable score of spirituals sung live by a soul-stirring choir, prominent figures in the worlds of entertainment, business, philanthropy, and politics will join in the festive dinner-dance at the Ziegfeld Ballroom. Proceeds from the Gala support the creation of new works, scholarships for talented students at The Ailey School, and Ailey's educational programs for children.

Along with the 65th anniversary season, Ailey is also launching a new Ailey Artist in Residence program, expanding its investment in and partnership with choreographers who reflect Alvin Ailey's cultural inquiry, participatory values, and worldview rich with vast curiosity. Created to dovetail with the New Directions Choreography Lab, the first cycle of the Ailey Artist in Residence program will welcome choreographers Amy Hall Garner, Maria Bauman, and Jawole Willa Jo Zollar, each of whom will be in residence for one year over the next three seasons. Ailey Artists in Residence will have the opportunity to impact all aspects of the organization, making their presence felt throughout the year.

Amy Hall Garner will kick off her residency with her first work for the Company entitled CENTURY, a deeply personal piece inspired by her grandfather on the eve of his 100th birthday. Taking a cue from his spirited essence and set to the music of Ray Charles, Count Basie, The Dirty Dozen Brass Band, and more, CENTURY is a celebration of life, resilience, and joy.

"Like so many people, I have always felt there was magic in the name 'Alvin Ailey'—two words that signify a special depth of emotion, freedom of expression, and uncompromising honesty, all conveyed with such virtuosity that your breath stops," stated Amy Hall Garner. "It is a profound honor to be named an Ailey Artist in Residence and to share this designation with other extraordinary dance makers. At the start of my participation in this wonderful residence program, and after previously choreographing for Ailey II and The Ailey School, I am endlessly grateful for now being able to celebrate my first premiere for Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater."

Former Ailey dancer Elizabeth Roxas-Dobrich will premiere a new duet titled Me, Myself and You. A dreamlike dance about reminiscence, it is set to Damien Sneed and Brandie Sutton's rendition of "In A Sentimental Mood," conjuring the memories of love and passion for a woman who is asking herself if she should let go or forge ahead.

New productions this season include Ronald K. Brown's Dancing Spirit, set to music by Duke Ellington, Wynton Marsalis, and War, which joins in the season's tribute to the women of Ailey by evoking the elegance, dignity, and generosity of Judith Jamison and borrowing the title of her autobiography. Other new productions are Alonzo King's Following the Subtle Current Upstream, an audacious, non-stop piece with movement abstract but steeped in meeting that mirrors life's boisterous waves; Jamar Roberts's Ode, a meditation on the beauty and fragility of life in a time of gun violence set to Don Pullen's Suite (Sweet) Malcolm (Part 1 Memories and Gunshots) with an all-female cast; and the seven-minute tour-de-force Solo by Hans van Manen, the internationally celebrated choreographer long associated with the Dutch National Ballet.

A "Pioneering Women of Ailey" program on December 19 will feature special performance excerpts celebrating Carmen de Lavallade, Judith Jamison, Denise Jefferson, and Sylvia Waters. This season's beloved Ailey Classics program highlights a selection of repertory spanning the breadth of Mr. Ailey's rich catalog, including excerpts of Memoria, Night Creature (sections 2&3), Pas de Duke (1st song), Masekela Langage (Morolo), Opus McShann (Gee Baby), Opus McShann (Doo Wah), Love Songs (A Song for You), For 'Bird' – With Love (A Night in Tunisia), Hidden Rites (Of Love), For 'Bird' – With Love (Bird Lives). A celebrated Ailey & Jazz program will showcase live music performed by the Future of Jazz Orchestra to accompany dynamic performances of Alvin Ailey's Night Creature and excerpts of Pas de Duke (1st song), Masekela Langage, Opus McShann (Doo Wah), A Song for You, For 'Bird' – With Love (A Night in Tunisia), For 'Bird' – With Love (Bird Lives), and Reflections in D.

The engagement also includes Family Matinee performances presented by American Express® each Saturday at 2pm (December 2, 9, 16, 23, and 30), followed by a Q&A session with Ailey's revered dancers. On Saturday, December 2 the series kicks off with a memorable pre-performance celebration inviting friends or families to have their photo taken to commemorate the experience. Whether watching as a child for the first time, as a parent remembering his or her childhood experience with dance, or as a family that has made Ailey a holiday tradition, all can enjoy the magic of Ailey.

Joining Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater this season are five new members, including an alumnus of AileyCamp—the third former camper to join the Company. Shawn Cusseaux, is a former member of Ballet X who has performed works by Amy Hall Garner, Jamar Roberts, and more. WORLD PREMIERES CENTURY

Choreography by Amy Hall Garner

Music: Various Artists

Amy Hall Garner's first work for Ailey is a deeply personal piece inspired by her grandfather on the eve of his 100th birthday. Taking a cue from his spirited essence and set to the music of Ray Charles, Count Basie, The Dirty Dozen Brass Band, and more, CENTURY is a pure dance work celebrating life, resilience, and joy.

Me, Myself and You

Choreography by Elizabeth Roxas-Dobrich

Music: Duke Ellington

A dreamlike duet by former Ailey dancer Elizabeth Roxas-Dobrich, Me, Myself and You is a dance about reminiscence. Set to Damien Sneed and Brandie Sutton's rendition of "In A Sentimental Mood," it conjures the memories of love and passion for a woman asking herself if she should let go or forge ahead.

NEW PRODUCTIONS

Dancing Spirit* (2009)

Choreography by Ronald K. Brown

Music: Duke Ellington, Wynton Marsalis, Radiohead, War

Ronald K. Brown pays tribute to Judith Jamison's profound influence with a moving work that echoes the title of Jamison's autobiography. Set to music by Duke Ellington, Wynton Marsalis, and War, Brown's evocative choreography uses movement from Cuba, Brazil, and the United States to conjure dancing spirits who embody Jamison's elegance, dignity, and generosity.

Following the Subtle Current Upstream* (2000)

Choreography by Alonzo King

Music: Zakir Hussain, Miguel Frascón, and Miriam Makeba

Alonzo King's work investigates deeply rooted affinities between Western and Eastern classical forms, elemental materials, the natural world, and the human spirit. Described by choreographer Alonzo King as "a piece about how to return to joy," Following the Subtle Current Upstream mirrors life's boisterous waves and reminds us that everything in nature seeks to return to its source. King's movement -- abstract but steeped in meaning -- sets the dancers in constant flow to an eclectic score by Zakir Hussain, Miguel Frascón, and Miriam Makeba.

Ode* (2019)

Choreography by Jamar Roberts

Music: Don Pullen

Former Ailey dancer Jamar Roberts offers a meditation on the beauty and fragility of life in a time of growing gun violence. This tender, engrossing work will be staged with an all-female cast and features a jazz score—Don Pullen's "Suite (Sweet) Malcolm (Part 1 Memories and Gunshots)"—and Roberts's own costume designs.

Solo* (1997)

Choreography by Hans van Manen

Music: Johann Sebastian Bach

Hans van Manen divides his dynamic Solo among three dancers in a tour-de-force that challenges the Ailey men's daring, agility, and grace. This explosive display of virtuosity and wit, set to a Bach violin suite, launches the performers into an exhilarating whirlwind of movement and musicality.

RETURNING FAVORITES

Are You in Your Feelings?* (2022)

Choreography by Kyle Abraham

Music: Various Artists

Acclaimed choreographer Kyle Abraham's recent popular work is a celebration of Black culture, Black music, and the youthful spirit that perseveres in us all. Scored to a "mixtape" of soul, hip-hop, and R&B, it explores the connections among music, communication, and personal memory. "A lot of these songs are the songs that I play when I'm at my lowest and at my highest. I wanted to find a way to thank those artists for their music and thank our culture for their contributions to this world in which we live." -Kyle Abraham

Cry* (1971)

Choreography by Alvin Ailey

Music: Alice Coltrane, Laura Nyro, Voices of East Harlem

In 1971, Alvin Ailey choreographed Cry as a birthday present for his mother on his stunning muse, the legendary Judith Jamison, who has taught the treasured role to subsequent generations of Ailey women. This physically and emotionally demanding tour-de-force 16-minute solo—dedicated to "all black women everywhere—especially our mothers"—went on to become an enduring work of American art. Made up of three parts—the first is set to Alice Coltrane's "Something about John Coltrane," the second to Laura Nyro's "Been on a Train," and the last to the Voices of East Harlem singing "Right On, Be Free."

In a Sentimental Mood* (2022)

Choreography by Jamar Roberts

Music: Duke Ellington and Rafiq Bhatia

An intimate scene from the domestic life of a couple becomes an exploration of love and desire in this duet by Jamar Roberts. Using an original composition by Duke Ellington and four jazz standards given an avant-garde twist by composer Rafiq Bhatia, Roberts bridges the past and present, making these musical classics freshly relevant and timely.

Memoria* (1979)

Choreography by Alvin Ailey

Music: Keith Jarrett

In the tumultuous time of 1979 when Mr. Ailey's great, perennial friend from his Lester Horton days, choreographer Joyce Trisler, died prematurely, he began choreographing Memoria. Later, he wrote, "Memoria is about Joyce's life, my memories of her, my image of her. Although these are very abstract images, nobody has ever asked me what Memoria is about. People everywhere understand it. Making the dance was a very deep and wrenching experience for me." The ballet is structured in two parts—"In Memory" and "In Celebration"—to the sublime music of Keith Jarrett. Memoria marked the first time Mr. Ailey combined Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater with Ailey II and advanced students from The Ailey School.

Night Creature* (1975)

Choreography by Alvin Ailey

Music: Duke Ellington

A bubbly champagne cocktail of a dance, Night Creature perfectly fuses Alvin Ailey's buoyant choreography and Duke Ellington's sparkling music in a definitive homage to The Duke's jazz that remains one of Mr. Ailey's most popular works. Ellington said "night creatures, unlike stars, do not come OUT at night—they come ON, each thinking that, before the night is out, he or she will be the star." The large ensemble work is full of stars—strutting, leaping, and slinking using modern dance, classical ballet, and jazz.

Survivors* (1986)

Choreography by Alvin Ailey and Mary Barnett

Music: Max Roach, strings orchestrated by Peter Phillips

Alvin Ailey's impassioned tribute to the profound courage and terrible anguish of Nelson and Winnie Mandela is, more broadly, a portrait of people transformed by injustice. Max Roach's richly varied drumming and Abbey Lincoln's vocals set the emotional tone for this powerful work that lifts up those who resist oppression in any form.

SIGNATURE MASTERPIECE

Revelations* (1960)

Choreography by Alvin Ailey

Music: Traditional Spirituals

More than just a popular dance work, Revelations has become a cultural treasure, beloved by generations of fans and acclaimed as a must-see for all. Alvin Ailey's signature masterpiece is a tribute to his heritage. Using African American spirituals, the work fervently explores the places of deepest grief and holiest joy in the soul. Seeing Revelations for the first time or the hundredth can be a transcendent experience. Audiences cheer, sing along, and dance in their seats from the opening notes of the plaintive "I Been 'Buked" to the rousing "Wade in the Water" and the triumphant finale, "Rocka My Soul in the Bosom of Abraham."

ABOUT ALVIN AILEY AMERICAN DANCE THEATER

Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater, recognized by U.S. Congressional resolution as a vital American “Cultural Ambassador to the World,” grew from a now-fabled March 1958 performance in New York that changed forever the perception of American dance. Founded by Alvin Ailey, posthumous recipient of the Presidential Medal of Freedom—the nation’s highest civilian honor, and guided by Judith Jamison beginning in 1989, the Company is now led by Robert Battle, whom Judith Jamison chose to succeed her on July 1, 2011. Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater has performed for an estimated 25 million people in 71 countries on six continents, promoting the uniqueness of the African American cultural experience and the preservation and enrichment of the American modern dance tradition. In addition to being the Principal Dance Company of New York City Center, where its performances have become a year-end tradition, the Ailey company performs annually at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, DC, the Auditorium Theatre in Chicago, The Fox Theatre in Atlanta, Zellerbach Hall in Berkeley, CA, and at the New Jersey Performing Arts Center in Newark (where it is the Principal Resident Affiliate), and appears frequently in other major theaters throughout the world during extensive tours. The Ailey organization also includes Ailey II (1974), a second performing company of emerging young dancers and innovative choreographers; The Ailey School (1969), one of the most extensive dance training programs in the world; Ailey Arts In Education & Community Programs, which brings dance into the classrooms, communities, and lives of people of all ages; and The Ailey Extension (2005), a program offering dance and fitness classes to the general public, which began with the opening of Ailey’s permanent home—the largest building dedicated to dance in New York City, the dance capital of the world—named The Joan Weill Center for Dance, at 55th Street at 9th Avenue in New York City.
