Order

1. This Order may be cited as High Security Zone Order bearing No. 01 of 2022.
2. The High Security Zones, which comprise of the areas specified in the Schedule of these Orders, are hereby declared.
3. The Secretary to the Ministry of Defence shall be the competent authority for the implementation of these orders.
4. (1) The competent authority may make provisions for the regulation of certain activities within the High Security Zones based on the security situation or during special occasions.
(2) The competent authority may issue commands incidentally from time to time for the proper implementation of these orders.

- (3) When a command is issued to a certain person under the sub section (2), it shall be the duty of such person to act in compliance with the said command.
5. Unless the prior written permission of the Inspector General of Police or Senior Deputy Inspector General of Police in charge of Western Province is obtained, no person shall conduct or hold a public gathering or procession whatsoever on a road, ground, shore or other open area situated within the High Security Zones.
6. (1) No person shall perform a construction of a building, a temporary or permanent construction or an excavation within the High Security Zones unless a permit from the competent authority is obtained for the said purpose in addition to the legal requirements which should be fulfilled by the person who intends to perform the said construction of a building, a temporary or permanent construction or an excavation.
- (2) Each permit should specify the terms and conditions and the said construction or excavation should be performed subject to the said terms and conditions.
- (3) The permit issued under the sub section (1) should be produced for inspection whenever a police officer requests to do so.
- (4) No vehicle should be parked within the High Security Zones unless reserved for parking by the competent authority or under the power of a permit issued by an authority mentioned in sub section (1).
7. A certificate issued under the signature of the competent authority confirming that the actions specified in the certificate took place within the High Security Zones should be admissible as evidence and it should be a prima facie evidence.
8. It shall be lawful for the Inspector General of Police to implement the provisions of these orders and when required, performing certain tasks mechanically or otherwise or the use of vehicles or another medium for that purpose shall also be lawful.
9. (1) When a police officer has reasons to suspect that a person has committed an offence under these orders or violates provisions of these orders, within the High Security Zones, the said police officer may subject the person to an inspection.
- (2) When a police officer has reasons to believe that a person has committed an offence as per these orders or by violating these orders, within the High Security Zones, the said police officer may subject the person to an interrogation.
- (3) Violation of these orders shall constitute an offence.
- (4) All the offences mentioned in these orders shall be considered as cognizable offences within the meaning and for the purpose of Code of Criminal Procedure Act, No. 15 of 1979.
- (5) A person taken into custody in connection with an offence under these orders shall not be granted bail except by a High Court.
- 10.(1) The chief occupant of a certain building situated within a High Security Zone shall produce a list of all the permanent or temporary residents to the Officer in Charge of the Police Station of the said area when ordered to do so.
- (2) Upon the submission of a list as per the orders of sub section (1), a change in occupancy of the said building should be informed to the Officer in Charge of the said Police Station by the chief occupant within 24 hours from such change.
11. In the event of an order given by the Officer in Charge of the Police Station of the area, each employer of either government department or private institution situated within the High Security Zone shall submit details regarding all the persons employed in their establishments to the Officer in Charge of the relevant Police Station.
- 12 (1) A police officer authorized in that behalf by the Inspector General of Police may enter a certain premises within the High Security Zone and check whether the provisions of the 6th order of these orders are being violated.
- (2) Should there be any action found in violation of the 6th order of these orders, the police officer who conducts the inspection that leads to the said finding shall inform the person performing or the one in charge to stop the construction or excavation or any other duties with immediate effect.

- (3) If a person further continues any construction or excavation work even after being ordered to stop such work as per the sub section (2), such person shall be guilty of committing an offence under this order.
13. No person shall light fire crackers or fireworks of any description whatsoever within the High Security Zones.
14. A person who either violates the provisions of these orders or refuses or fails to comply with any provisions or orders given by the competent authority or any police officer as the case may be under the provisions of these orders or a person who obstructs or prevents a police officer or someone performing duties under the competent authority or his command or cause another person to do so shall be guilty of an offence under these orders.
15. Any person who is guilty of an offence under these orders shall be liable, on conviction as per the provisions mentioned in Section 26(2) of Official Secrets Act, to a punishment under the said section.
